

Villa Arona, St. Moritz

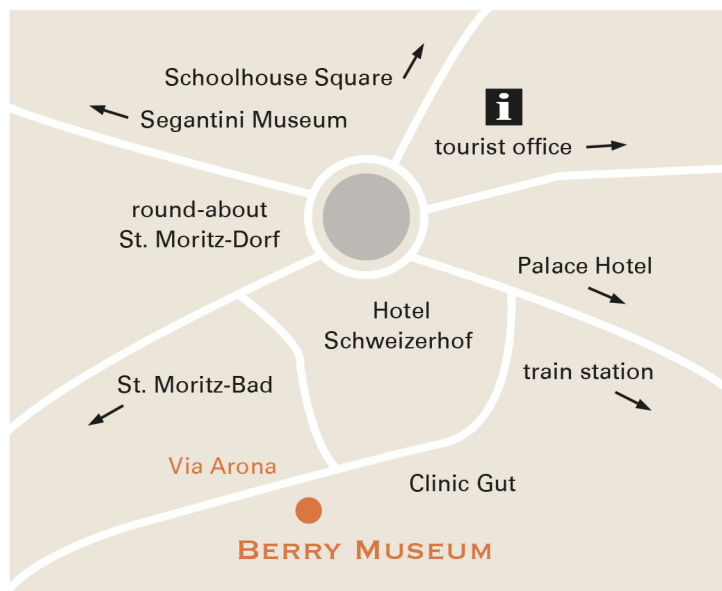

Self-portrait with hat, 1913
oil on canvas (27 x 41 cm)

Studio in the snow, Bernina Pass 1908

The Berry Museum, housed in the century-old Villa Arona in the heart of St. Moritz, is dedicated to the doctor and painter Peter Robert Berry (1864–1942). Drawing on a comprehensive family collection, which assembles the majority of the artist's oil paintings, pastels and drawings created over more than forty years, the Berry Museum for the first time offers deeper insight into the artistic vision of Peter Robert Berry. Inspired and influenced by the internationally celebrated and locally important artists Giovanni Segantini and Giovanni Giacometti, Berry studied art in Paris and Munich. After returning to his birthplace, Berry captured the natural beauty of the mountain surroundings in vibrant colours. St. Moritz and the Upper Engadine are the decisive settings for his work. Life, art and landscape coalesce here to a singular snapshot of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

museum hours:

Monday to Friday: 14 – 18h admission discount for groups of 10 or more free admission for children 12 and under exhibit:

major works by the artist, including oil paintings, sketches and pastels, as well as photographs documenting his life and work in addition:

special exhibitions, library and documentation on local history

services:

tours, special events, lectures, educational resources, membership, museum store

for further information visit:

www.berrymuseum.com